RENOWNED KRONOS QUARTET TO PERFORM IN UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON ART SERIES

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 27, 1989--The Kronos Quartet, perhaps the most unconventional string quartet in serious music, will perform as part of the University of Dayton's Art Series on Thursday, Nov. 9 at 8 p.m. in the Kennedy Union Boll Theatre on campus.

Tickets for the performance are sold out, but a waiting list has been established. For waiting list information, contact UD's office of university activities at (513) 229-4114. Tickets for the Kronos Quartet performance are $15.

Members of the quartet--David Harrington and John Sherba on violins, Hank Dutt on viola and Joan Jeanrenaud on cello--have chosen to concentrate on challenging music that comes from and speaks to current times. This devotion to new works has established Kronos as a unique force in chamber music. The program at UD will include works written specifically for Kronos by composers John Zorn, Kevin Volans, Hamza el Din, Istan Marta and Steve Reich as well as a piece by Justinian Tamusuza.

The Kronos Quartet, currently in its 11th touring season, will also perform at Oberlin College on Saturday, Nov. 18.
